

Simple, Scalable, Flexible

Honeywell's NetAXS-123 is a web-based access control solution that puts you in control. Simple and intuitive menus, combined with full access control capabilities, allows you to easily secure doors and manage employee access.

It's Simple to Use

- Access your system from any Internet connected computer to quickly make informed decisions
- NetAXS features a simple to use Web interface that eliminates the need for system management software

It's Scalable

- Modular access control gives you more for your money. You can buy as little or as much access as you need
- Edge panel installation lowers at-the-door costs and makes access control more affordable

It's Flexible

- Connect multiple panels to your existing network and use a single IP address for system access
- Supervisor mode helps reduce false alarms by preventing access when the system is armed
